REDEEMER EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH - MISSOURI SYNOD CHICO, CALIFORNIA MAY 2021 Vol. 35 No. 5

from the Pastor...

Rev. Donald Jordan

EASTER IS IN GOD'S CONTROL, NOT YOURS

We are living now in the time of Easter and its season, which began on Holy Saturday and ends with the midday prayer on Pentecost.

Easter is not merely a one-day celebration. It is a fifty-day season from the Day of the Resurrection of Our Lord to the Day of Pentecost. This extended season – one seventh of the year – is a victory celebration, a time for all Christians to proclaim boldly their faith in a risen and victorious Savior.

The first celebration of Easter is the Easter Vigil, on the evening of Holy Saturday. This vigil includes a service of light, much like Evening Prayer, in which fire or light symbolizes Jesus as the light of the world. The service is designed to take the Christian from the solemnity of Good Friday to the predawn joy of Easter.

Easter is the richest and most lavishly celebrated festival of the Church Year. Flowers and lilies adorn the chancel. There is a festive processional hymn and a gospel procession. The trumpets blare and the congregation proclaims “He is risen. He is risen, indeed.”

While not as lavish, this joyous and celebratory tone echoes through the Sundays of the Easter season.

Forty days after Easter, the Church celebrates the Ascension of Our Lord, who ascended into heaven not only as God but also as man. The final Sunday of the Easter season, celebrated as Pentecost, was adopted by the early Christians to commemorate the first great harvest of believers for Christ. Thus, Pentecost is the day the Holy Spirit came upon the disciples and they gave their bold and compelling witness about the resurrected Lord. The color for the Day of Pentecost is red, representing fire and blood. Red recalls the tongues of fire received on the first Pentecost and the martyrs who shed their blood for the faith.

During Easter, we rejoice in our salvation that Scripture records in Matthew 28, Luke 24, John 12:24-25; 20:1-29; 21:1-14 and Acts 1:6-11; 2:1-4.

The color of Easter is white. White is the color of our Lord's holiness, which is everywhere during Easter, from the paraments and vestments of the pastor to the traditional Easter lilies.

After a long absence in Lent, “Alleluia” returns at Easter and is heard everywhere in the propers appointed for the weeks after Easter. The joyous hymn of praise, “This is the Feast,” is sung with gusto and vigor as the resurrection of Jesus is extolled.

God is in control of His work, despite the notion that sometimes we think we are in control. He does his work and continues that work in the church today. The resurrection of Easter does not depend on you or me. The joy of Christ is given to you and me by the Holy Spirit.

The joy of the resurrection be with you in body and soul.

TECHNOLOGY

Technology thoughts...

When was the last time you received a handwritten note and not an email? This might have even been from a friend with whom you have an active email correspondence but this time they actually put pen to paper and wrote you a note. How did you feel when you opened the note? Did you linger over the note a bit? Were you tempted to simply dash off an email response or is the note still sitting on your desk waiting for you to handwrite a response? Why do you want to respond in writing rather than an email? Ponder these thoughts for a few minutes.

What are some of the benefits of email versus sending correspondence through mail?

- Rapid delivery
- No needing to buy stamps and then find a post box for mailing
- Received email text can be enlarged so ease of reading
- If vision has become a problem you can set your computer/tablet to read the text to you
- Add your own thoughts to this list

If you were born before computers you probably remember your teacher saying in response to the “why do we have to write these words over and over” that the fact of writing causes your brain to receive impulses from your hand and arm and this helps you to remember (or some variation of this). Why was discipline over some issue often to write 25, 50 or 100 times “I will not...” Why did your music teacher assign scales for daily practice? All of these include muscle memory.

To add to your pondering consider taking notes by hand versus typing into your laptop. When you type is this more of an automatic action and the words almost bypass your thinking process whereas when you write you are going slower so that you can actually read your notes later on.

Again, if you are of a certain age, remember where taking at least a year of typing in high school was considered essential. The goal was to not only be able to copy (type) from a written text until you could reach a certain speed, but the teacher also dictated material so that you were able to reach proficiency to a certain level. (Some of you learned shorthand but that is another skill not learned by the majority.)

Why bring this up at all? Isn't technology for writing better than longhand? Think about that for a time. Have we become so “conditioned” to using our computers and tablets that we may be missing out on some of the benefits of sitting down and writing? Obviously there are many benefits of using a computer when writing a research paper or other such texts where revisions may need to be made. And having to prepare a multi-column spread sheet is hands down better using a computer.

The take away from these thoughts is that perhaps we need to slow down from time to time, think about that family member or friend and actually put pen to paper and write them a note and mail it. Not just a birthday card with a short note though that is good, but an actual letter.

Technology has great benefits and if your day requires extensive correspondence there is no replacing your computer. However, technology needs to be used in a godly manner and perhaps in some cases that means not using it. Think on these things and whether or not there is somebody in your life who would greatly benefit from a handwritten note.

SOLAR INSTALLATION APPROVED!

Board of Trustees have approved a solar installation. Alternative Energy Systems was selected, with an estimated cost of $44,789.92. Memorial and Facility accounts will be used to fund the project. The savings in electrical use is anticipated at about $400 a month. Look for installation to begin shortly when the panels are placed on the Parish Hall roof.

And these words that I command you today shall be on your heart. You shall teach them diligently to your children, and shall talk of them when you sit in your house, and when you walk by the way, and when you lie down, and when you rise. (Deut 6: 6-7 ESV)

“Martin Luther boldly states that of all the goals and accomplishments we can strive after in life, the greatest is to raise children in the faith. During a time when it was considered noble to abandon family responsibilities to become a monk or nun, Luther plainly stated that the holiest vocation for a parent is to, in fact, be a parent. Today, very few moms and dads leave their families to join holy orders, but the sentiment remains: keeping Christ at the center of our families is the most important work we can do.” (Lutheran Life issue 121)

There is no limit to the resources available via the internet. The issue becomes which ones are beneficial, which are godly, which help build up a Christ-like family. Who do you turn to for information? How do you sift through the seemingly unlimited resources all claiming to be the best and most helpful?

One resource that has been tried and true is to search through the abundant material from Concordia Publishing House. Easy! Start by typing into your browser “cph content library” or <https://discover.cph.org>

Lutheran Life is a magazine for all, not just children. For college students, parents, grandparents, in short those looking for resources on navigating life no matter what age or stage. To subscribe type Lutheran Life in your browser or <https://books.cph.org/lutheran-life>

The current issue, #121, is about living together as family and covers many topics. Check it out. You can download a pdf or you can read the magazine online. Both options are helpful.

Let Lutheran Life help guide you through the maze of resources for raising your family in a Christ-like manner.

UPDATE FROM ANDREW ESMAY

Hello Redeemer,

I hope this letter finds you well in these difficult times of quarantine. Since I was last with you in fellowship at Redeemer Lutheran Church, I moved to Spokane, Washington to live with my older brother. Here I began to attend Holy Cross Lutheran Church across the street.

I managed to complete my degree this fall and have graduated with a Bachelors in English. The next step of my educational journey will take me to Concordia Theological Seminary Fort Wayne where I was fortunate to be accepted this upcoming September.

It is with great appreciation that I accept the church's support in this endeavor and ask for your prayers these upcoming four years as I study the word in preparation to become a pastor. I am very excited to further my understanding of my faith in seminary and look forward to my time there.

Since my graduation last fall I have spent most of my time studying for the seminary's ELCE's, camping, and playing video games with my brother. I will remain here in Washington until the end of May when I have the opportunity to serve the Lord as a camp counselor at Camp Perkins in Idaho ministering to the youth until summer ends and I am off to school.

Thank you!

to Thivent members who have designated Thivent Choice Dollars to Redeemer Evangelical Lutheran Church!

In the past five years we have received $8,222, for which a portion has helped to upgrade our computer technology.

MERCY/HEALTH MINISTRY

We are very glad to have one more member volunteer to be a servant through mercy ministry. Thanks to all of you for keeping our brothers and sisters in Christ in prayer and making contacts to homebound and members who need assistance. We pray for those who are suffering from anxiety, grief, or depression,. We need to remember that one kind word, one compassionate action can mean so much to those who are hurting.

If you feel you would like to serve in some capacity, please leave your name with the office manager and you will be contacted.

As always, VITALANT, the local blood donation center is requesting donations. Those of you who are regular donors will get notices in the mail. Others, who may wish to donate, are asked to call Vitalant directly to schedule and appointment. (The number is 893-5433) or www.vitalant.org Only individuals who are healthy and weigh at least 110# should inquire. It takes very little time and could really help save lives.

WHAT TO EXPECT AS A TRAVELING LUTHERAN

From Aaron Ashworth

I had the opportunity to travel during Lent this year with a Lutheran friend of mine. As someone who appreciates routine, living out of a Suburban made Lent difficult but not impossible. We had lots of opportunities to attend Lenten services as we traveled and I have some advice to Lutherans looking to travel: Do your research before you go!

Pastor Jordan often admonishes the use of screens during services, which for me was confusing but I took him at his word and my experience this year proved him absolutely right. On our second day road tripping we found a local LCMS church for Ash Wednesday. Screens aside, it seemed people standing outside didn't even know they regularly attended a church that was listed as an LCMS, which was a red flag alone. The second warning was they had removed all LSBs from the pews. Giving them the benefit of doubt because of our current issues with COVID-19, we stayed for the service. Inside, we were treated to a confession and absolution via screens that completely replaced Jesus with requiring forgiveness for absolution of our racism and climate change denial. Another church with screens began accidentally absolving themselves in which the pastor had to interrupt them saying "No, this is my part of the liturgy." Using the LSB for liturgy would have prevented this. Pastor Jordan is right; "Screens are disastrous for liturgical services because they allow the church leadership to bypass Lutheran doctrine and replace it with their own, which is dangerous because even though they may be an LCMS church, they may not have confessional pastors. The LSB is there for OUR benefit! It's important that LCMS parishioners encourage their use."

A great example for why we need confessional Lutheran pastors was when one church had a Baptist youth leader. He ran the youth program, which is good that they have one, but could not catechize the children because he wasn't catechized himself. I had asked him if he had planned on getting catechized and I didn't really get a response from him on this. He did say, however, that the pastor was responsible for catechesis so even though he wasn't catechizing them, the pastor was.

The best experiences I had while traveling were at churches I already knew were confessional Lutheran churches. When I knew where I would be on Sundays, I would do research beforehand and have Pastor Jordan assist me with referrals. Doing a little bit of foot work, I was able to know what I could expect from those churches. I could show up and participate without skipping a beat. The best thing about being a new Lutheran was that I still got to experience interesting differences in the way services were conducted compared to ours, especially with regards to music. I got to experience different Introit tunes, as well as the inclusion of a choir. I enjoyed the unique architecture of each church, also.

"Till we all come to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to a perfect man, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ; that we should no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the trickery of men, in the cunning craftiness of deceitful plotting, but, speaking the truth in love, may grow up in all things into Him who is the head — Christ—" - Ephesians 4:13-15 (NKJV)
